U. S. Must Aid Israel, Nixon, Humphrey Tell B. B.

WASHINGTON (WNS)—Vice-President Hubert Humphrey and former Vice-President Richard Nixon voiced strong American support of Israel, including military aid, at the triennial national convention here of B'nai B'rith.

Reiterating his position on continued American military aid to Israel, the Democratic Presidential nominee said that while "arms control" was the real answer to the problem in the Middle East, Israel had a right to be strong enough to deter aggression and defend itself, and that the U. S. "had a duty to respond favorably" to Israeli requests for defensive arms "on grounds of our own security interests."

The Republican Presidential candidate reiterated a statement he made in Houston to the effect that he favored the sale of U. S. military jets to Israel. Nixon said, "It would be a great threat to peace if Israel's neighbors, bent on a war of revenge and smarting from their defeat in the Six Day war, are ever given the impression that they could launch a war with Israel and get away with it." At the same time, he noted that, "If it takes Phantom jets, they should have Phantom jets."

Tops Vietnam Interest

The former Vice President maintained that the U. S. must render military support to Israel to meet the challenge of Soviet penetration into the Middle East. He termed America's interest in that region greater than in Vietnam and declared that "we must make it crystal clear that the stake of the free world in the Middle East is great; we must impress upon the Soviets the full extent of our determination and then, and only then, will we cause them to re-examine their own policy to avoid a collision course."

Nixon said that the United States' "firm and unwavering com-

GROUND-BREAKING INDOORS — While rain fell intermittently Sunday, Beth El synagogue moved its symbolic ground-breaking for the new $1,800,000 edifice at Twenty-sixth St. and Highway 100 into the Activities Building, where services are being conducted temporarily. Two white paper-covered boxes of dirt were moved onto the bima, where rabbis and past presidents turned a golden spadeful of sand. Excavation of the new site got under way last week.

Roundup Snarcs 18 Terrorists in Tel Aviv Bombing

TEL AVIV (JTA) — Speedy and effective cooperation between police and Israel's security services was credited with the roundup of an Arab terrorist gang responsible for a series of explosions near the Tel Aviv Central Bus Station, which resulted in death of one man and injury to 51.

The explosions, caused by bombs placed in trash-cans near the depot, so angered and enraged Tel Avivians that hundreds of them attacked and beat up Arabs in the vicinity and swept into Jaffa to attack Arabs there and demolish stores and shops.

Captured in the police dragnet set immediately after the explosions were three of the four youths who actually placed the bombs and 15 other members of the gang. The two leaders of the gang, Hebron

Israel Offers Aid To Stricken Iranians

JERUSALEM (WNS) — An offer of aid to the earthquake victims in Iran has been made by Foreign Minister Abba Eban in a cable to the Teheran government. Israel, he informed Teheran, was prepared to send medical teams in addition to drugs, medicine, plasma, bandages, blankets and other necessary material.

Beth El 'Breaks Ground' Indoors for New Edifice

By MARION DORFMAN

Beth El Synagogue had a ground-breaking Sunday for its new sanctuary, but it was a first of its kind—an indoor ground-breaking. The threat of inclement weather made it a necessity that proved practical, poetic and pious.

Over 400 congregants, many with young children in their arms, listened to Cantor David Silverman and the Beth El choir sing "Ma Tovu." Past president Robert Greenberg gave an invocation asking God's blessing on Beth El's new sanctuary. Immediate past president Sidney Shields, master of ceremonies, gave a brief summary of the time-table for building and named those men most instrumental in the fund drive.

Arnold Lyons, president of the congregation, brought the building fund drive to the actual hour of ground-breaking and asked that "We reverently pray that God will bless this great and noble undertaking." He thanked the co-chair-

JDC Aids Czech Jews Periled by Russ Vilification

NEW YORK (JTA)—American Jewry moved swiftly to bring whatever aid it could to the Jews of Czechoslovakia as the hardline Communists gave every indication that they intended to use anti-Semitism to discredit the Czechoslovak reform movement.

The Joint Distribution Committee announced that it had allocated $100,000 to provide relief for Jewish refugees arriving in Vienna from Czechoslovakia. Samuel L. Haber, JDC executive vice-chairman, revealed that, as of Sept. 4, a total of 780 refugees had applied to the JDC office in Vienna for assistance. He said the first applicants came from among the thousands of tourists who had been outside Czechoslovakia when Soviet troops crossed the border. The latest group, he said, consisted of men, women and children who had just come to Vienna from Czechoslovakia.

Refugees Eye U.S., Israel

Few of the Jewish refugees, Haber noted, have made any plans for the future, although small numbers indicated a desire to emigrate to the United States, Israel and other countries. "The general consensus of those on the spot," Mr. Haber said, "is that this is a waiting period, with indecisiveness playing the main role."

The JDC Vienna office is overcrowded with the refugee influx and additional office space is being sought. To cope with the emergency, experienced JDC staff members have been sent to Vienna from JDC headquarters in Geneva and other offices in Europe.

Jews in Czechoslovakia were reported to be watching with mounting concern the extension of the propaganda campaign conducted

Israel Stunned by U.N. Failure to Condemn Egypt

JERUSALEM (JTA) — Israeli Foreign Ministry circles expressed sharp disappointment that the United Nations Security Council had failed to condemn Egypt for the cease-fire violation which resulted in death of 10 Israeli soldiers and wounding of 17, three critically.

Reports read to the emergency session of the Security Council by Secretary General U Thant from Lt.-Gen. Odd Bull, head of the cease-fire observers, assessed blame for starting the artillery exchange — the most severe since last October — on Egyptian gunners. Gen. Bull's reports also blamed Egypt for delays in accepting a cease-fire.

Israelis had expected more from the emergency session which was convened at Israel's urgent request to deal with what Ambassador Yosef Tekoah described as a "premeditated, large-scale and unprovoked assault in flagrant violation of the cease-fire." They were disappointed that the suggestion of Lord Caradon, British representative, that the Council call on both sides to observe the cease-fire, was mitment to the national existence of Israel" was not determined by a bid for Jewish votes but was undertaken because "Americans believe in the self determination of nations, because Israel is threatened by Soviet imperialism and because she has displayed guts, patriotism, idealism and a passion for freedom."

He said that, while it would be a mistake for Israel to take "formal and final" possession of all occupied territories, "it is not realistic to expect Israel to surrender vital bargaining counters in the absence of a genuine peace and effective guarantees." He thought the United States "should assert some leadership in bringing about talks, first with the moderate Arab leaders and later with the militants."

He denounced the anti-Semitic propaganda emanating from Moscow following the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia. He said, however, that Soviet anti-Semitism was linked with Soviet designs in the Middle East.

Tactic Outrages Humphrey

Humphrey said that "We should be particularly outraged by the shabbiest tactic, by the blatant appeal to anti-Semitism as justification" for the invasion of Czechoslovakia, which he declared dramatized "the cynicism and ruthlessness of the Soviet decision to occupy Czechoslovakia."

Compassion for Negro

In his presidential address, Dr. William Wexler told the 1,200 delegates that, while there must be no ignoring or condoning of chauvinistic "Black Power" discrimination against Jews, Jews must have compassion for Negro aspirations."

While defending the right of the black community to "remove the shackles and to share fully in the bounty of society, the B'nai B'rith president said, "We cannot shrug off a practice of discrimination in

Ambassador Rabin To Address ZOA Conclave

GEN. ITZHAK RABIN

WASHINGTON (Special)—The son of one of several thousand American Jewish Legionnaires who fought in the Judean Battalions in World War I—a military hero in his own right—will be the main speaker at the concluding banquet of the 71st convention of the Zionist Organization of America honoring the Golden Jubilee of the Jewish Legion of World War I, Sunday evening, Sept. 15 at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Washington.

General Itzhak Rabin, Israel Ambassador to the United States and hero of the Six-Day War, son of Nehemiah Rabin, an American Legionnaire, will address the banquet composed of 1200 ZOA delegates and his father's friends who in World War I fought in the then Palestine.

The ZOA conclave which runs Sept. 12-15, will feature top Israeli and American leaders, including Israel Deputy Prime Minister Yigal Allon.

Delegates from the Twin Cities, include: Minneapolis District — Dr. and Mrs. William Medalie and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Haspel; St. Paul District—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fremland, and Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Greenberg.

brothers named Abdul Rahim Jaber and Munir Jaber, became the objects of a widespread police search.

Strike at Rush Hour

The carefully planned bomb attack took place around noon when the bus terminal was packed with passengers, Arabs as well as Jews, and adjacent streets were filled with pedestrians and weekday traffic. Police cordoned off the area and tried to protect Arabs, many of whom sought shelter in police stations.

Some 300 Arabs were questioned and released and a handful held for further investigation. Among them were two of the four youths who had planted the bombs. They identified their associates, one of whom was picked up later in East Jerusalem while a search was pressed for the fourth.

From leads given during the interrogation, additional arrests were made, bringing the total up to 18. These men, their fugitive leaders and other suspects were said by police to have been responsible for the bombing of the Orient Cafe in Jerusalem, the attempted bombing of the American Consulate in East Jerusalem and the planting of grenades in trash-cans in Jerusalem.

Cordon Traps Terrorists

In a three-hour press conference police officials ascribed their success in capturing the gang to the fact that the speedy cordon thrown around the area enabled them to catch two of the men who actually planted the bombs. One of them Abdul Latif Kemal, leader of the bombing squad, freely cooperated with police and gave them names and addresses of his associates.

Kemal told them, police said, that the four bombers got their final instructions from Rahim Jaber the day before the bombing. Through an error, fuses on the bombs were incorrectly set so the bombers did not have time to get away before the explosions.

4 Arab Leaders Deported

Four Arab leaders, one a woman, were deported last Friday for incitement to terrorism, on orders of Defense Minister Moshe Dayan and the West Bank military governor. The four were Miss Zleikha Shehawi, Dr. Daoud al Hussein, Kamal Dajjani, all of Jerusalem, and Yasser Amre of Hebron.

They bring the total deported by Israeli authorities since the June war to 11.

Prime Minister Levi Eshkol thanked the public for preventing widening of rioting against Arab residents by infuriated Jews. He took pains to praise those Jews who protected innocent Arab citizens from attacks by "hoodlums."

the sole action taken by the Council.

Soviet Supports Egypt

The Council heard Ambassador Tekoah charge Egypt with violation of the cease-fire, and an attempt by the Egyptian representative, supported by the Soviet Union, to put the blame on Israel. It adjourned to seek agreement and resumed when Ambassador George

Ignatieff of Canada, Security Council president, read a consensus statement deploring the loss of lives and enjoining both Egypt and Israel "strictly to observe the cease-fire called for by the Security Council's resolutions."

Israel had sought the emergency session because of the critical nature of the situation, although the Council was scheduled to meet to resume consideration of Israel's complaint against Egypt for the August 26 cease-fire violation in which two Israeli soldiers were killed and one kidnapped. Israel seeks the return of the kidnapped man.

Synagogue Council Rejects NYU President's 'Apology'

NEW YORK (WNS)—Reacting to a statement by Dr. James M. Hester, president of New York University, in defense of retaining an accused anti-Semite as director of the Martin Luther King Afro-American Student Center, the Synagogue Council of America called it "unpardonably imprudent and insensitive" and an "apologia" for a "scurrilous anti-Semitic article."

The controversy arose over the university's naming to the post of John F. Hatchett, a dismissed Harlem teacher who had been accused by Jewish and non-Jewish groups of venting anti-Semitic attitudes in a published article.

The Synagogue Council said it was particularly perturbed that Dr. Hester found it necessary to defend Hatchett's article instead of attempting to justify the appointment by saying that the article did not reflect what NYU believes to be Hatchett's true convictions.

Hatchett was the author of an article last year in a Negro teacher's periodical in which he accused Jewish teachers who, he charged, dominated the New York public school system, of "mentally poisoning" Negro pupils. NYU made the appointment apparently without knowledge of the storm this article had caused.

Replying to the council's statement, Dr. Hester said the Synagogue Council had erred when it interpreted his position as meaning that he defended the controversial Hatchett article. "I believe," he said, "that all forms of varieties of anti-Semitism are abhorrent and I strenuously oppose anti-Semitism wherever it appears."

Earlier, Dr. Hester denied that the Hatchett article, which had been denounced by Jewish and other groups as being anti-Jewish, was in fact anti-Semitic.

by the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland and Bulgaria to label the Czechoslovak reformers as "Zionists" or as "Zionist dupes" and the reform movement as a Zionist conspiracy.

Hajek Falsely Called Jew

The Soviet Government organ Izvestia beat the anti-Semitic drums in a savage attack on Jiri Hajek, the Czechoslovak Foreign Minister, whom it sought to discredit by identifying him as a Jew who had changed his name from Karpeles and who was known as a man who had collaborated with the Gestapo during the Nazi occupation.

An Austrian Communist newspaper, Volksstimme, accused Izvestia of "mudslinging" and declared that Hajek "is and was no Jew."

The fragment of Jewry (some 15,000) still remaining in Czechoslovakia has survived nearly a quarter of a century of Communist rule—years which included the Stalinist terror and the "doctors' plot" and the implied guilt by association of the entire Jewish community in the alleged crimes of Rudolf Slansky, the Communist Party boss who was convicted of plotting against Stalin and was hanged.

Nothing like the atmosphere of the Slansky trial days has yet been recreated in Czechoslovakia, but the cynical recourse by the hard-line Communists to anti-Semitism as a weapon to discredit the Czechoslovak reform movement, can result in the same kind of conditions in Prague that are currently being suffered by the Polish Jews.

The Hatchett Affair

IN THE CAUSE CELEBRE that has become known as the Hatchett Affair, there has been a series of pained protests and ponderous ripostes, the former from Jewish and interfaith sources, the latter from Dr. James M. Hester, the president of New York University, which named John F. Hatchett director of the Martin Luther King Jr. Afro-American Student Center at NYU.

At the time the appointment was announced, late in July, NYU officials were—it was subsequently learned—completely unaware that Hatchett, a substitute teacher in a Harlem public school, had written an article in December 1967 for a publication called the Afro-American Teachers Forum, which he titled "The Phenomenon of the Anti-Black Jews and the Black Anglo-Saxon: A Study in Educational Perfidy." The article began with these paragraphs:

We are witnessing today in New York City a phenomenon that spells death for the minds and souls of our black children. It is the systematic coming of age of the Jews who dominate and control the educational bureaucracy of the New York public school system and their power-starved imitators, the Black Anglo-Saxons.

It is the avowed thesis of this paper that this coalition or collusion, or whatever one chooses to call it, is one of the fundamental reasons why our black children are being educationally castrated, individually and socially devastated to the extent that they are incapable of participating in, and carrying through to a reasonable conclusion, any meaningful educational experience. In short, our children are being mentally poisoned.

THESE SENTIMENTS have, with utter justice, been damned as "black nazism." This attitude has, with compelling cogency, been termed a disqualifier of Hatchett for the sensitive post to which he has been named and in which—despite the protests—he is being retained.

Curiously, the several defenses Dr. Hester has made both of his client and the appointment have deepened the sense of rejection the community feels about a man who spouts a "spot" form of classic (and totally discredited) anti-Semitism. Most offensive of all has been Dr. Hester's woeful and dangerous naivete in asserting that in his view Hatchett's article wasn't anti-Semitic—ignorant as he is that the long, sordid history of anti-Semitism is pockmarked with the wheezy defense of the anti-Semite: that the Jew is singled out for scurrilous attack not for his Jewishness but for the "objective" sins attributed to him.

Dr. Hester compounded his hurtful assertions with the out-of-focus observation that Jewish teachers—the object of Hatchett's blows—had left themselves open to attack by organizing themselves into the Jewish Teachers Association. "In this way," says the head of a great university serving a population which includes the largest Jewish community in the world, "they have drawn attention to the fact that they are Jewish teachers."

We call Dr. Hester's attention to the elementary truth that, on the contrary, they are not Jewish teachers but teachers who are Jews. To our mind only those men and women who teach Jewish subjects, under Jewish educational auspices, are Jewish teachers. And Dr. Hester's further insistence that Hatchett was not criticizing "Jews as Jews" but rather "teachers who happened to be Jewish" is totally belied by Hatchett's own words, which have been cited in part above. Unhappily and unfortunately, we know an anti-Semite when we hear one, see one, and feel the familiar blow of his biased, hate-warped weapon.

THE SYNAGOGUE COUNCIL of America, the very symbol of authoritative and responsible American Jewry, has felt called upon in this woeful affair to join the issue. In deeply pained tones, the Council has condemned Dr. Hester's public remarks as "unpardonably imprudent—an insensitive defense of a scurrilous anti-Semitic article." Another highly placed Jewish spokesman has termed that defense a "tortured and outrageous effort to de-odorize Hatchett's noxious anti-Semitism."

We don't want to leave the impression that Jews feel that Dr. Hester himself is anti-Semitic. Far, far from it. We accept without qualification his statement that he finds "all forms and varieties of anti-Semitism abhorrent"—and that he strenuously opposes anti-Semitism wherever it appears.

But we think he is wrong in his decision to retain Hatchett. For the heart of this dreadfully unpleasant issue is that a man who so roughly and assaultively indicts Jews who are teachers for "mentally poisoning Negro pupils in the public schools" can hardly be trusted with the stewardships of a highly sensitive race-relations enterprise.

Healing Hands

Announcement by the Joint Distribution Committee that it had allocated the sum of $100,000 for aid to Jewish refugees in Austria from Czechoslovakia is not only a tribute to the eternal watchfulness of that unique agency, but a painful reminder that the era of refugees is unfortunately not yet over and that we must not relax in maintaining the structures of succor that have been the pride of Jewish life in America in this century.

We actually know little of what is happening to the Jewish community in Czechoslovakia—how many have taken to the familiar wanderer's cane, nor how many of those who left plan to return or leave for safe abodes elsewhere in the world, including Israel.

What we do know is that some 780 Jews from tragic Czechoslovakia have applied for assistance to the JDC office in Vienna and that they had found there open doors and healing hands in the best of the Jewish tradition of mercy.

We must of course be hopeful that the tragedy of Jewish refugees in Europe will not repeat itself. But given the current climate of fear there against the background of the madness in Moscow, we must be prepared for any eventuality in the countries of Eastern Europe over which the red shadows of Moscow are lurking menacingly.

FOR FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

U.S. Jewry Has Serious Youth Problem, N.Y. Educator Says

LOS ANGELES, (JTA) — For the first time in its history, the American Jewish community has a serious youth problem which includes a "growing behavioral pathology which cannot be swept under the rug," a New York youth educator told a meeting at the Brandeis Camp Institute. The educator, Dr. Graenium Berger, camp and education consultant of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies of New York, added that loss of faith, failing family controls and "a moral and pathological decline" among Jewish young people was evoking concern among national Jewish leaders and organizations.

Dr. Berger

Dr. Berger cited estimates that 35 to 40 percent of the participants in the hippie center of Haight-Asbury in San Francisco had been Jewish, in asserting that the Jewish "profile was never more fragile than now." He declared that "a decade ago Jewish youth was not involved with sex or drug escapades, alcoholism, suicide charts and negative social reactions" but now "a Jewish youth problem is beginning to manifest itself."

Dr. Berger, who headed a delegation of 13 Jewish camp directors, spoke at the close of a four-day study of the 27-year-old Institute's methods in helping Jewish college students rediscover Judaism's meaning in the modern world. He lauded the camp as an important "pilot project" in using contemporary techniques in efforts to reinvolve Jewish youth in a heritage "that heretofore has protected strong family ties and healthy social patterns among the young."

Change of Scene

Moviegoers around the United States remember her in the role of the aged Jewish woman whose business is taken over by the Nazis in the Academy Award-winning Czech film, "The Shop on Main Street." New York theatergoers remember her as the guiding spirit of the Jewish State Theater of Poland which played on West 41st Street last year, breathing nostalgic life into the dying Second Avenue Yiddish theater tradition here.

Now Miss Ida Kaminska, at 68 a distinguished international actress in the grand manner, has declared her intention of settling in the United States. When a Jewish actress or intellectual leaves Poland today, lengthy explanations are hardly necessary. Memory of the recent past and freedom in the political present are reasons enough.

Perhaps the anachronistic Jewish State Theater will continue to exist in Poland without its managing director. Surely the Yiddish stage in New York will receive a boost in its periodic efforts at revival by the presence of Miss Kaminska.—New York Times.

Candles in the Wind

A determination to open doors rather than open fire is apparent in several recent developments bearing more or less directly on the Israel-Arab conflict. Though still provisional, perhaps, that sense of purpose can help to open minds long closed by savage strife in the Middle East.

One heartening sign was the release of the remaining passengers and crewmen of the Israeli airliner hijacked by Arab commandos last month and forced down in Algeria.

Another encouragement is the outcome of private contacts between Spain and the United Arab Republic: hundreds of Sephardic Jewish families in Egypt, anxious to emigrate, were supplied with Spanish passports and have left for new homes in other countries. Quiet intermediation by UN Secretary General Thant was of major influence in both of these cases.

Finally Israel's decision to resort to the UN Security Council rather than to counterforce in the aftermath of a new Arab raid across the Suez Canal represents a fresh appeal to reason and diplomacy, the calm tone of the Israeli and Arab diplomats in the Council debates so far is also refreshing.

It is doubtless too early to project dramatic moves toward peace as arising from these limited successes. But in a real sense, no diplomatic victory in the Middle East is a small one and there may be renewed hope not only for Ambassador Jarring's peace mission but also for the spirit of conciliation upon which it depends.

Asks Support for Republican Nominees

Editor, American Jewish World:

The 1969 Republican Platform on the Middle East reads as follows:

"In the tinderbox of the Middle East we will pursue a stable peace through recognition by all nations of each other's right to assured boundaries, freedom of navigation through international waters, and independent existence free from threat of aggression."

Richard Nixon has repeatedly stated that he is in favor of a strong Israel and that he favors selling Israel Phantom Jets to maintain the balance of power in the Middle East.

The Johnson-Humphrey administration has been consistently opposed to selling Israel Phantom jets.

Richard Nixon has also resigned from any private clubs practicing discrimination. This will be announced in the near future if it has not been announced by the date of this publication.

In view of the above which are of interest to us as Jews and in view of the bad record of the Johnson-Humphrey administration on many other issues including the Vietnam war and inflation to name a few, I believe that Jews should reconsider their traditional support of Democrats for national office in this crucial year. Consideration should be given to support of the Republican nominees who have together with the platform given the Jews of the United States far more than they have received in the nature of support in the past.

Czech Crisis Hastens Exodus from Poland

WASHINGTON, (JTA) — A sharp increase in the number of Jews leaving Poland has followed the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia. Since mid-August, about 100 Jews have been leaving Poland each week for Israel or western nations. Since June, 1967, when Poland severed relations with Israel, more than 1,100 Jews were known to have left Poland. The exodus reportedly was caused by the anti-Semitic campaign and purges conducted by the Polish regime in the guise of "anti-Zionism."

The Polish Communist press recently accused Jewish intellectuals in Czechoslovakia of "Zionism" and with having had a major role in "counter-revolutionary" activities cited by the Soviet Union and invading Warsaw pact countries as justification for the occupation. Leading doctors, engineers, and other Jewish professionals have left Warsaw and other Polish cities.

LUCKY I 'BROUGHT' BRAND GRANDMA FROM ROMANIA

When this writer came to America at the age of two or three months, a fellow passenger on the Cunard liner Astoria, accompanying the family all the way from Brai-la, Romania, to Minneapolis, was the grandmother of Judge Irving R. Brand, 4300 Forest Road. Inasmuch as Brand will be 50 this December, we have to admit that journey was some time ago. However, we claim vicarious credit (over the judge's protests) for his contributions to our Jewish and general communities, because, after all, he wouldn't be here if his grandmother hadn't come, would he?

Mr. Brand

This writer also will accept the credit (or is it blame?) for getting Brand involved in Jewish National Fund campaigns. The judge steered the Hubert Humphrey Forest fund-raising effort in 1960, with Judge Archie Gingold as co-chairman, which raised some $47,000. Brand then played a major role in the all-time record $80,000-plus JNF campaign which honored Jay Phillips, with Humphrey as guest speaker. Then he lent his good name to a JNF "thank you" campaign which raised funds for an Irving Brand forest in Israel. As one who has received the same honor and as a past president of the Minneapolis JNF Council, I testify under oath that Israel would have at least 100,000 fewer trees today if it hadn't been for Brand's dedicated campaigning.

But other Jewish organizations also owe him a debt of thanks. He is serving his second year as president of Adath Jeshurun synagogue after many years as vice president and board member. His board and vice presidency terms beginning in 1952 were interrupted, Judge Brand says, "for time to rear five children properly," with the help of his wife, the former Ruth Miller. Mrs. Brand is a former board member of Brandeis and Mount Sinai Hospital women's auxiliaries. Their children are Judith, 13, now in junior high; Johanna, 12, Jonathan, 10 and Jethra, 8, in Fern Hill school, and Joshua, 4, an Adath Jeshurun nursery school pupil.

Brand, a graduate of Adams and South High schools, received University of Minnesota degrees in 1941 and 1943, and served on the Minnesota Law Review student editorial board and as its president. He still does some writing for publication, having been a contributor to Modern Medicine and Dental Survey magazines since 1961. His name, as chairman and co-author, is on the cover of a Minnesota guide book for uniform instructing of juries in district and municipal courts.

He now practices law with the Builders Exchange firm of Maslon, Kaplan, Edelman, Borman, Brand and McNulty, but finds time to teach at the University of Minnesota—as Law School adjunct professor since 1966 (he had been an instructor since 1953), and in the School of Dentistry since 1947 as professorial lecturer on ethics and jurisprudence. Brand was admitted to practice in the Minnesota Supreme Court in 1960.

BRAND HAD the honor of being appointed to judgeships by both a Republican and Democratic governor. Gov. Luther Youngdahl named him municipal judge in Minneapolis in 1951, a post he held until 1955, when Gov. Orville Freeman elevated him to the fourth district court. He served as district judge until 1966, when he resumed private practice. A plebiscite of Hennepin County Bar Association members led to Brand's municipal court appointment, when he ranked near the top in a list of 26 lawyers suggested for the post.

Freeman, a law school classmate of Brand's who is now Secretary of Agriculture in Washington, whispered to Brand during cornerstone laying ceremonies for Hillel House, which the judge served as president and building committee chairman, that: "I am appointing you to the district court." Brand first cut his teeth on judicial work as law clerk for Eighth Circuit Judge Seth Thomas in the U.S. Court of Appeals in 1943-44 and the following year he was a Justice Department civil division associate attorney. He spent the next two years in Chicago law practice, followed by two years' practice in the Rand Tower and two more with Karlins, Gross-man, Karlins and Brand, up to the time he became a municipal judge.

Brand's mother, Mrs. Ruth Brand, lives at 3028 S. Ewing. His father was the late Harry R. Brand, and the judge's brothers, Albert, 2857 Aquila, and Arthur, 5133 S. Logan, operate the Brand Camera Shop at 84 S. Ninth St. A member of the Federation board from 1953 to 1958, Brand headed the Metropolitan Division of the campaign in 1957. At that time, he also raised funds for Israel as president of American Friends of Hebrew University, Twin Cities chapter, and wore a third hat as Brandeis University local organizer and fund-raising chairman. He won an award for what he called a $70,000 "quiet campaign" with Abram Sachar as speaker at Oak Ridge.

Hillel honored Brand with election to its national commission last year, and he still serves on it. He has been a member of the Mount Sinai Board of Governors since 1964, and served on the board from 1952 to 1964. He has served on the boards of Jewish Family and Children's Service and Emanuel Cohen Center, and in the law enforcement field Brand headed a legislative commission on juvenile delinquency, adult crime and corrections; chaired an advisory committee's study of juvenile traffic offenders; is co-chairman of the county bar association's ethics committee; chaired the state bar association's traffic law enforcement committee; and is a member of the state supreme court's advisory committee on rules of civil procedure and appellate practice.

For Adath Jeshurun, Brand was a leader in the $100,000 new bima and refurbishing project as a memorial to the late Sidney Goldish, who died while serving as the synagogue's president, and also helped in the $300,000 school annex project which preceded it.

"We may move the synagogue in 10 or 12 years," said Brand, "to a new center of Jewish population in the western suburbs." If it comes to pass, a prime mover in the undertaking will be Irving R. Brand. He's got to be where the Jewish action is.

Mansoor Alyeshmehri, a native of Iran who directs the Temple Israel Hebrew School and serves as Sunday School principal for the temple, is one of the leaders of a campaign begun by Iranian students at the University of Minnesota to raise funds for food, shelter and drugs for the thousands of earthquake victims in Iran. The Dean of Students at the University will supervise distribution of funds contributed. Checks may be sent to Iran Earthquake Fund, Student Activities Bureau, University of Minnesota. Rabbi Jerome Herzog, president of the Minnesota Rabbinical Association, said appeals will be made from some pulpits this Sabbath, and Sam Scheiner, director of the Jewish Community Relations Council of Minnesota, also supports the effort. Mansoor, a North High graduate who formerly made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Abe Schanfield, is a graduate linguistics student teaching Persian and freshman English at the University.

ROUNDUP OF THE WEEK

Mr. Stewart Mr. Harris

Ronald L. Harris, 1885 Highland Pkwy., and Sheldon Stewart, 2092 Watson Ave., have changed the name of their Harris Plumbing and Heating Co. to Harris Mechanical Contracting Co. Under the new name at its new St. Paul location, 2300 Territorial Rd., the Harris firm is part of a new corporate family, which also includes Hunt Electric Corp., and Northwestern Heating, Inc., at the same site. The new corporate group is Harris-Stewart Companies, Inc., and it will add at least one more firm—a fire protection business. "This," said Harris and Stewart, "reflects the broadened scope of our services to Upper Midwest industry."

Arnold (Bill) Aberman, 8900 N. Minnehaha Circle, is St. Louis Park chairman of Democrats for Humphrey, his wife is active in the women's division, and now their 14-year-old daughter, Kerry, has organized St. Louis Park Teens for Humphrey. And Ricky Aberman, 13, immediately became a member of the Teen group, which elected Kerry co-chairman. Missy

Federation Women to Hear Shapiro at Fall Forum Oct. 29

High School Teen Topics

Teen Topics reporter this week is Bonnie Haskvitz, St. Louis Park

September marks not only the end of summer, but also ushers in the new school year. Here at Park, fall means getting back into the swing of things after three months of summer fun.

The staff of the Echo, Park's bi-weekly newspaper, is already off and running having published their first issue of the year Wednesday. The Echo has been given the National Scholastic Press Association's highest rating, the All-American.

The Democratic Convention last month found ten members of the Parkettes, Park's precision dance troupe, in Chicago. Vice President Hubert Humphrey hired the group to dance at his Hospitality Center. Among them were Andi Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Harris, Cindy Kunin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kunin, and Roberta Gelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gelt.

Back from an eight week trip to Mexico, sponsored by Richfield High School, is Lee Ann Getzug, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Getzug.

Pam Lifson, senior, spent the week of June 6 at the Minnesota state fair grounds attending Girls' State. She was elected by the Junior Class last spring to represent Park in the program geared to teaching Minnesota high school youths more about our state government. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lifson.

Junior Randy Blindman and her family, the Bruce Blindmans of 1643 Utah Drive, are hosts to Aviva Goldstein. Aviva hails from Israel and will be attending Park while observing American life through December. She is sponsored by Temple Israel's Israeli exchange.

How About Some Honey Bon Bons For The Holidays
Here's something that's very easy to make and makes a big hit with sweet tooth of every age—a plate of delicious little Honey Bon Bons. They're made with honey, of course, the traditional Rosh Hashana sweet, and they're really very festive for serving your holiday guests. Just follow the easy recipe originally suggested by Miriam Fields and be sure to use Planters Peanut Oil for best results.
2 eggs
1 cup honey
4 cups unsifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/3 cup Planters Oil
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
Beat eggs until light, then gradually add sugar, beating well after each addition. Then blend in honey and Planters Oil. Now sift together flour, cinnamon, and baking soda and add to the honey and Planters Oil. Blend well. Drop this mixture by teaspoonfuls onto oiled baking sheets and bake at 400 degrees F. for eight minutes. This simple recipe should give you about six dozen delicious honey cookies!

Dateline L.A. -- Erev Selihot

By JANET F. KROLL

It is Sunday morning and I'm listening as I usually do at 10:30 to Los Angeles KFAC's Jewish Community & Federation program that never fails to stimulate and enlighten the listener. Today it was Ben-Gurion who was being interviewed — his mind as keen and sharp as a razor blade. Last week it was Zubin Mehta, the colorful and brilliant conductor of the L. A. Philharmonic, who flew to Israel to make music while the Israeli tanks were blazing through the Sinai desert during the Six-Day War.

Mrs. Kroll

Suddenly my door bell tinkled and I opened to the mailman bringing a special delivery envelope from Esther Rosenbloom (Mrs. Eli) containing the little blue "Selihot" service booklet, authored by Ruth Brin. I hope to be back in Minneapolis for the High Holy Days, but unfortunately, I will not be able to attend the midnight services at Adath which first introduced this new service last year in consultation with Rabbi Arnold Goodman, and Stanley Rabinowitz of Adas Israel in Washington, and Cantors Morris Amsel and Raphael Edgar. I recall being deeply moved with Ruth Brin's interpretation of the liturgical themes and the setting of the mood of "Yomim Norayim"—Days of Awe.

Yes, autumn has come and how shall I celebrate this solemn hour? Summer, the season of radiance and also of riots, is waning. Now a strange silence possesses us. The green of the leaves become tarnished and the ten days of Penitence and Prayer begin. We beseech for cleansing in the expiation of sin and error, and we herald the approach of Bereshit of the Jewish calendar — another Beginning. Soon now the time for reckoning will be upon us and we shall turn to a new page in the hope of greater promise and fulfillment. These then are the days to ponder and probe our social and moral responsibilities, to repent and repair our frailties.

My one-time school chum, Eleanor Campbell writes me from her retirement in Illinois: "I hope the Day of Atonement gives you some kind of lift. Just remember you can't possibly atone for All the sins of the World!"

IN AND ABOUT L.A.

Sometimes I think L.A. is nothing but a suburb of our own Twin City community. I find myself forever bumping into Minnesota expatriates — old timers and many youthful friends of my children. I see where Dr. Jack L. Krishef, retired from many years of dentistry in Minneapolis, who with his wife, Ellen, are now settled here, has just been installed as president of the Israel Zionist Society, a district of the ZOA. Martin Waisbren, another expatriate, son of the late Nathan Waisbren, one of our Talmud Torah founders, has succeeded Harry Bikson, former Minneapolis attorney, as president of Hollywood Temple Beth El.

At the West Side Jewish Community, Jean (Mrs. Laz) Barron, at one time active in B'nai B'rith and the Auxiliary of the Jewish Home for the Aged, is now busy with her rewarding duties as president of the Senior Adult Friendship Club. Mrs. Jennie Tankenhoff Fredgant, a former St. Paulite, really relishes her new job as editor of Ivriah Hadassah Hi-lites.

Back in January there was a beautiful party at the home of Gerald and Ronna (Goldberg) Paymar, in honor of Gerry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Paymar of St. Paul. Ronna and my daughter Leona had been inseparable as youngsters. Ronna's parents, Pascha and Lillian Goldberg, had moved to Santa Monica some five years ago, but Pascha died two years ago. At the hostess table, Lillian was dispensing, her late husband's favorite hors d'oeuvre, "Pasta a la Pascha." By her side were her two lovely granddaughters, Michele and Andrea Paymar, and son and daughter-in-law Jay and Nancy Grant.

Si and Gert Epstein, Lillian's Santa Monica neighbors dropped in, as did Sid and Ruth London, St. Louis Park, who were enroute to the Thermo-King convention in Hawaii. Other guests were Florence (Yager) and husband Tola Ravitch and Florence's daughter, Phyllis, and Maureta Cohn Horn and husband. The young people had been at Council Camp together and had a great time reminiscing. Someone I had not seen in many a year was Florence's sister, Mrs. Rose Horwitz Lewis. Rose proudly introduced her new husband as father of producer Lewis of "The Fixer" which won the Second Grand Prix award in Paris.

Memo to Ida Bleher Davis: How would you like to include this little story in your next "Fun with Yiddish" edition: "Hitler hat areingefallen in the Nile und arossgekummen a Nasser."

If you've seen the musical "Cabaret," you will find out what "A Meeskeit" is. No doubt it will soon show up in the dictionary as part of the new evolving American language.

And so a Guten, Zussen Yahr! I'll be seeing you at Neila.

Duluth-Superior

Duluth chapter of Hadassah will hold a tea at the Center at 1:30 Wednesday. Judy Ayallon, Lieutenant in the June Israeli War, a student at the University of Minnesota, will be the guest speaker. Mmes. Gordon Paymar and Yale Davis are chairmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosenfield, 35 Snelling Ave., announce the Bar Mitzva of their son, Timothy Harold, Saturday morning at Tifereth Israel.

A Family Sabbath Dinner will precede services at Temple Emanuel at 6:30 this evening. Mmes. Harold Singer and Samuel Singer are chairmen.

Correction: The name of Sam Goldish, husband of the late Bessie Goldish who died Sept. 2, was inadvertently omitted from the list of survivors.

Mrs. Dora Dubester, 85, died August 28 in a Superior nursing home. She had been a resident of Superior for the past five years and was a member of Temple Beth El. Prior to moving to Superior, she was a longtime resident of Oshkosh, Wis. Surviving are five sons, Louis, Milwaukee; Mathew, Winnebago, Wis.; Max, Oshkosh; Nathan, Philadelphia and David, Superior; nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services for Mrs. Libbie Binder Lindgren, 58, 2101 John Ave., Superior, who died August 30 were held September 2 at the Thompson Funeral Home with Rabbi Mayer Rellis officiating. Interment was at Hebrew cemetery. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Etta Binder, Superior; a son, Robert Pluntz; a daughter, Mrs. Donna Cadotte, Denver; two brothers, Bernard F. Binder, Los Angeles, and Gerald Binder, Milwaukee; three sisters, Miss Sylvia Binder, Superior; Mrs. Wayne Stanfield, San Leandro, Calif., and Mrs. Bernard Kleinsmith, Huntington Wood, Mich., and five grandchildren.

Dinner Dance Sept. 21 to Mark CJW Anniversary

The celebration of a 75th Anniversary, creates the obligation to discover answers to many questions. This was soon learned by Mrs. Bert Hoffman, editor-in-chief of "The 75th Anniversary History" of the St. Paul section of the Council of Jewish Women. The high point of the local Diamond Jubilee celebration will be the dinner dance Saturday evening, Sept. 21, at Hillcrest Country Club.

In the early planning stages Mrs. Hoffman and her committee divided their quest into two areas—artifacts and archives. They were able to discover the whereabouts of a fund-raising tablecloth, embroidered with 750 names, and used on special occasions from 1940-1960, the year it "went into hiding." Commenting on the cloth, Mrs. Hoffman said "A special section was devoted to names of grandchildren. Today, those very grandchildren are married, have families, and the women are active members of CJW." A second artifact, reflecting Council's policy of inaugurating projects later accepted by the community, was an antique doll dressed by a Council member, used at "Mend-A-Heart" luncheons, fund raising project for the Rheumatic Fever clinic in the 1950's, now a part of Wilder Clinic.

Other items for the archives were found in many locations, including the Historical society, and the American Jewish World office. They consisted of Minute books from 1917, Yearbooks, dating from 1916, annual reports of chairmen and presidents, written in their own handwriting, from 1920-35, pictures, and two well-filled scrap books, to add to the two already in Council's possession.

A permanent home will now be found for the artifacts and archives brought together for the Anniversary. Mrs. Lewis Harris and Mrs. Bert Hoffman will welcome any further items pertaining to the early years of the St. Paul section Council of Jewish Women.

Mrs. Albert Levin is in charge of reservations which are limited.—A.T.F.

ELECTRIC DRYER

ELECTRIC DRYER

Today, 33% less money (a saving of $110) buys you a lot more electric dryer.

It takes 20% bigger loads than the '58 model.

The '68 dryer has automatic cycles to match any fabric, including the new permanent-press fabrics. (Garment manufacturers recommend automatic dryers as best for permanent-press garments.)

And it's yours in a wide choice of decorator colors.

And here's more good news. All of today's major electric appliances cost an average of 34% less than the appliances of just 10 years ago. And the electricity that runs them is cheaper. Average home electric rates are 50% lower than a generation ago. Today, less money buys you a lot more electric living.

Mansfield: No Bias In Fortas Fight

SEN. MIKE MANSFIELD

WASHINGTON (JTA)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, of Montana, insisted in a television interview that there was "absolutely no anti-Semitism" involved in the continuing attacks on the nomination of Supreme Court Associate Justice Abe Fortas as Chief Justice. Sen. Mansfield, who leads forces seeking approval of the Fortas nomination, was asked about the factor of anti-Semitism. A newsman pointed out that President Johnson last weekend raised this question when he depicted a similarity in the opposition to Justice Fortas to the campaign against confirmation of the late Louis D. Brandeis, first Jew ever to serve on the Supreme Court.
