

WICKET RICH

HELP THE POLICE CATCH A
SERIAL KILLER
BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE

CATCH ME
IF YOU CAN

BRIEFING

Greetings, Special Agent K.

For the past four months, the Birmingham police had their hands full, investigating a suspected serial killer. Claiming 12 victims, this sadistic prick has a habit of leaving his victims alive. Sending cryptic messages to police, taunting them to find the victims before they die. Either from injuries, exposure or dehydration.

This morning, police received a USB drive, delivered by a young boy. Who claims a hooded man paid him 20£ to bring the USB to the police.

Digital Forensics found no meaningful evidence, other than an encrypted ZIP file. It seems the serial killer is taunting the police about his next victim.

Birmingham police asked SERPENT to break into the file. There are currently several people missing, and one of them is probably the current victim.

Break open the file and follow wherever that leads. If you find anything resembling a location, notify me right away. I have our client on speed dial.

Happy Hunting, Special Agent K.

MATERIALS

catchmeifyoucan.zip

ANSWER INSTRUCTION

Use the answer to unlock the flagfile, this will reward you with a collectible “contract card”.

The what3word location of the victim’s location.

Format: word.word.word

FLAGFILE

Be advised, the flagfile is an encrypted ZIP. Make sure your OS supports the ZIP format. Ensure the password contains no hidden characters.

CREDITS

This challenge was made by Frank Diepmaat.

