

Introduction

There's quite a lot to work with here Special Agent. Besides murder statistics, you have locations sent by the killer, a quote from the killer, a riddle file and the current missing persons report from the Baltimore Police Department.

Murders Baltimore 2024

We're not sure if the existing murders are related to any of the Midnight Slayers' work, we do have reason to believe some of these might be attributed. Many of these were committed at night and seem to match the MO of our killer. Check the attached spreadsheet.

Pictures Received

The killer is playing games with investigators. Due to staffing issues and low clearance rate, we suspect the killer is getting impatient and wants credit for their work. The pictures below arrived at the Baltimore Police Department with the following note:

From the sound of angels we fear, not for the pleasure of heaven, but the salvation of all earthly pains. In our last moments, we find solace in those who went before us. It's the lines that mark where our lives were crossed.
