The pruta (p) was introduced shortly after the establishment of the state of Israel, as the 1000th part of the Israeli pound. It replaced the mil (m), which was the 1000th part of the Palestine pound, a currency issued by the British Mandate of Palestine prior to May 1948

One Israeli pruta was equal to 1/1000th of an Israeli lira (or pound). This subdivision was in use until 1960, when the currency was changed from the pruta to the agora (1 Lira = 100 agorot), with 1000 agurot being equivalent to 1 Israeli lira. Stamps were now denominated in Israeli lira (L)

Jerusalem Siege Revenue Stamps

1948

These revenue stamps were produced by the "Otzar Ha'am" (The People's Treasury)
They were withdrawn rapidly because the configuration of the map was in conflict with the United Nations Partition map of 1947
They were used internally on documents, etc. until early 1949

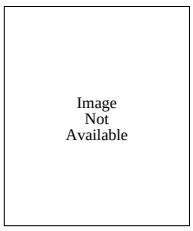

Perforation 11 x 11
